

Arity utilizes sophisticated driving and other big data sources along with proprietary algorithms and predictive analytics models to make transportation smarter, safer and more useful for everyone. Our solutions help enterprises, partners and consumers across the transportation ecosystem better understand, improve, leverage and engage in mobility. Larry has spent the past year leading all aspects of sales for Arity (an Allstate company) for predictive analytics, telematics, data management and Big Data.

