

Steve Brown is the lead underwriter for Liberty Mutual's Sharing Economy & New Mobility Practice, which he pioneered and helped build over the past five years, winning him Liberty's top recognition, the Chairman's Award, for his innovation and creativity. Steve works with broker and client partners to develop custom insurance solutions for the sharing economy sector, focusing on new mobility – ride-hailing, vehicle-sharing, car subscription, and autonomous vehicles – that present unique and emerging risks to commercial businesses, individual consumers using the services and /or individuals providing the assets.

Over his 29 years with Liberty Mutual, he has held a variety of underwriting and management roles, including large risk casualty underwriting, multinational underwriting and product development. Steve also lead strategic initiatives to develop and implement systems solutions to support Liberty Mutual's Workers Compensation and Commercial Auto business processes.

Steve is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and holds the Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter (CPCU®), Associate in Risk Management (ARM), and Associate in Reinsurance (ARe) designations from The Institutes.
